SCREEN TIME THAT GIVES YOU EXTRA FOCUS

The Silento Screen™ range is our practical and neat screen solution, which makes it simple to create sound dampening “rooms within the room”. Section off the room with our floor screens, or make your desk more private with a table screen. With our smart connection fittings, you can easily combine different-sized screens in order to create a meeting room or transform a large area into several individual offices.

Products in the Silento Screen range have a fibre filling, which makes them stable and good at absorbing sound. The table screens are also available with a reinforced track system, so that you can install your display screen, or other items, directly onto the partitioning.

Our partitioning is available in two different thicknesses, 34mm and 40 mm, and comes in plenty of colours and fabric combinations. The entire Silento Screen range is laboratory-tested for sound absorption (N_{10} -value), and the fabrics are fire-retardant.

Selma is an exclusive and modern table screen that comes in seven different widths - and four different fabrics - as standard. Selma has a 44 kg/m³ fibre filling, which gives it both very good sound absorption properties and super stability. The fibre material used is made of waste material from production, along with recycled PET bottles. Selma is also available in a reinforced model, which means that the screen is supplied with a factory-fitted track system, so that you can install heavy equipment, such as a display screen, directly onto the screen.

SELMA FLOOR SCREEN

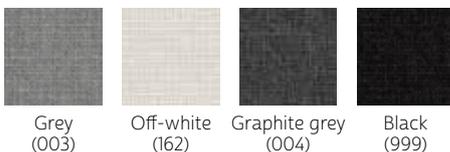

With Selma floor screens, you have multiple possibilities to construct a secluded space as needed, regardless of how your office looks. With our smart connection fittings and stable feet, you can adapt the partitioning exactly as you want. You can even fit castors to move it smoothly around the room. Selma floor screens come in seven different widths and four different fabrics as standard (other fabrics are available as non-stock items).

Selma has a 44 kg/m³ fibre filling, which gives it both very good sound absorption properties and super stability. The fibre material used is made of waste material from production, along with recycled PET bottles.

SOUND ABSORPTION

Silento Screen products are laboratory-tested for sound absorption (N_{10} -value). This means, among other things, that the products have been tested for the most common frequency ranges in office environments.

SUSTAINABILITY AND ENVIRONMENT

The material used for Silento Screen products is certified according to Standard 100 by OEKO-TEX®. This means that the products meet strict human ecological requirements, i.e. do not contain chemicals in concentrations that are harmful. The products are also largely made from recycled material; partly waste material from production, and partly recycled PET bottles.

RE: SCREEN - WE RECYCLE YOUR PARTITIONING

Our partitioning is recyclable over and over again. When you are ready to change your Silento Screens, you can deposit them with us to give them new life. We renovate, reuse, and recycle the material in order to produce new partitioning, either for your own or someone else's office. Contact us to learn more.

ACOUSTICS ARE MORE IMPORTANT THAN YOU THINK

Acoustics affect us more than we might think. When we talk about good acoustics, such as in the workplace, we usually mean areas and spaces where the sound environment is pleasant. This means that we perceive the noise level as not being too high, and that there is no echo effect. If we instead experience the contrary – noise levels that are too high and a lot of echoes and reverberation – this can affect us negatively, and have consequences for our health. It can, among other things, lead to increased stress, loss of concentration, headaches, and increased tiredness.

IMPROVING OFFICE ACOUSTICS

The most common measures for improving the office sound environment are to install an acoustic ceiling, sound absorbers on the walls and sound absorbing partitioning. Our Lanab Silento line of products provides good possibilities to create acoustic furniture that ensures a pleasant sound environment. We can also offer you rooms that are completely silent if needed.

WE HELP YOU DESIGN YOUR SOUND ENVIRONMENT

Do you want to create a positive sound environment but don't know where to start? Don't worry. Contact us for help combining products to achieve the environment that you want and need. We analyse your needs together, and formulate a proposal for a solution. You're welcome to visit Lanab Group.
